Part I

Vexilla Regis ..... Giovanni Battista Pergolesi (1710-1736)

Vexilla Regis prodeunt, fulget Crucis mysterium qua vita mortem percolat et morte vitam protulit.

The Banners of the King go forth, blazoned with the mystery of the Cross by which he has endured life and death and life is extended in death.

Agnus Dei ..... Vincent Persichetti (1915- )

Agnus Dei,
qui tollis peccata mundi,
miserere nobis,
dona nobis pacem.

O Lamb of God
Who taketh away the sins
of the world
Have mercy upon us.
Grant us peace.

Psalm 98 ..... Hugo Distler (1908-1942)

Sing to the Lord a new-made song!
for He doth wonders!
He conquereth with His right hand.
Hail the Lord and shout joyfully unto Him, Hail Him and praise Him.
Praise ye our maker, O praise Him with music and with singing . . . with sound of trumpet, and horn.

O let the sea roar, and the fullness thereof,
and all the earth and they that dwell therein,
and let the floods be rejoiced, and all the hills and vales be joyful before God!
Sing to the Lord a new-made song.

A Hymn of St. Columba ..... Benjamin Britten (1913- )

Regis regum rectissimi
prope est dies domini,
dies irae et vindictae,
tenebrarum et nebulae.

Dies que mirabilia tonitruorum fortium,
dies quoque angustiae
maeroris ac tristitiae.

In quo cessabit mulierum
amor et desiderium,
nominum que contentio
mundi hujus et cupido.

Regis regum rectissimi
prope est dies domini.

King of kings most high
at hand is the day of the Lord,
the day of wrath and vengeance of shadows and clouds.

Day of miracles
with loud thunder
also the day of anguish of lamentation and sadness.

In which will cease for women love and desire
of names and contention for worldly things and greed.

King of kings most high
at hand is the day of the Lord.
